Message from Head of Department

Dr. Souvik Chatterji
Head
Department of Juridical Sciences

"Moot Court Exercise involves the application of the law to a common set of evidentiary assumptions, facts, and disputes to which competitors are introduced. In most moot court competitions, there are two sides and each side is represented by two speakers or oralists (though the entire team composition may be larger, and the number of speakers may range from one to four) and a third member, sometimes known as counsel, may be seated with the speakers. Each speaker usually speaks between 10 and 25 minutes, covering one to three main issues. I hope this National moot court competition will be fair, just, impartial and help the teams to inculcate and imbibe all the advocacy skills right from drafting to submission in courts of law."

Head of the Department
Department of Juridical Sciences JIS University, Kolkata, WB*
