Review Process

The International Journal for Dispute Resolution follows a Peer Review Process.

The process follows the following steps:

1. The Manuscripts submitted through the submission form are assigned a manuscript code.
2. After this, all the details of the author(s) are removed from the manuscript.
3. The manuscript is then sent to two members of our reviewing team, who review the manuscript based on the quality of the research and the relevancy of the topics. Note: These members are not from the honorary editorial board.
4. After evaluating the articles, both editors assign the manuscript a score out of 5.
5. The manuscripts that get a combined score of 5 or above out of 10 are selected for final publication.
